It should also ensure that public authorities must publish and place on their websites all relevant facts while formulating important policies, or announcing the decisions that affect the public.
- (6) The appropriate Governments must integrate Right to Information Act, 2005 with all flagship programmes, as has been initiated with NRGPA so that the monitoring mechanism of the programmes becomes more efficient and also that the public has minimum resort to use of the Right to Information Act, 2005 to obtain information in respect of a particular flagship programme of the Government.

(2) Public Authorities should proactively and regularly disseminate information in their web-site so that the public can easily download the required information.

(3) There should be an effective monitoring system for the implementation of the provisions of Right to Information Act, 2005. It is recommended that a State level Monitoring Committee under the Chairmanship of the Chief Secretary to Government and a District Level Monitoring Committee under the Chairmanship of the District Collector concerned may be constituted.
